Mr. and Mrs. Barbee.

BY JOHN G. SAXE.

The village sot (Jared Barbee)
Was left a widower (bless the day!)
His only child, a girl (Maria),
Was married off and went away.

Alone the drowsy days (Barbee)
Were dull enough, I'm sure you'll say;
But Jared's spirits rose (of course)
With every morning of the week.

Each night he sought the village inn
(Where Jared was a welcome guest),
And closed the tavern (Barbee's pride)
Each night, and always drank the best.

Thus passed a month, and Jared Barbee
Began to miss his daughter Mary;
He thought he'd pay a visit (Barbee)
To see how matters went with Harry.

Now Harry was a thriving man
(Barbee was poor as poor could be),
And lived in credit and good style
Upon the town of Tadmorey.

Maria (Mrs. Harry Barbee)
Was fond of company and dress;
Her house was full, her table, too,
Was loaded down with costliness.

Her husband (Harry) was a man
Of different mould, and loved his ease;
Business he shunned (he had enough),
And passed his days as he could please.

Thus Jared Barbee found his child
(Maria) in a handsome home,
Where all was done to please the eye,
And everything was like to come.

Maria (Mrs. Harry Barbee)
Received her father with a kiss,
And Harry (Barbee) took his hand
And bade him welcome to his house.

Now Jared Barbee (the village sot)
Was not a man to be ashamed
To show his face in any house
Or company, however named.

He sat him down (Jared Barbee)
And looked around him with a smile,
Then said (he thought 'twas time to speak)
He'd stay a month or two awhile.

Maria (Mrs. Harry Barbee)
Looked up amazed, and with a frown
Began to speak (her father thought
It best to let her have her own).

Maria (Mrs. Harry Barbee)
Said (Jared Barbee thought she lied)
That Harry (Barbee) was a man
Who never kept a drop of drink

About the house (Jared Barbee)
Nor ever had, since they were wed;
Maria (Mrs. Harry Barbee)
Had always thought it best instead

To have her husband (Harry Barbee)
Attend to business, and be sure
To keep away from taverns (Barbee)
And all such places, to secure

His custom for the store (Barbee)
And not disgrace his family
By visiting such places (Barbee)
As taverns, where all people see

Who goes and comes (Jared Barbee)
And tells the news to all the town;
Maria (Mrs. Harry Barbee)
Was sorry that her father (Barbee)

Had fallen into such a habit
(Jared Barbee thought she lied),
But hoped he'd break it off (Barbee)
And be a man and not a beast.

Jared Barbee (the village sot)
Was thunderstruck, and thought it best
To leave the house (Harry Barbee's)
And never more be seen in it.

Jared Barbee (the village sot)
Went back to Tadmorey, and found
His old companions (Barbee)
Were glad to see him safe and sound.

Jared Barbee (the village sot)
Was now a man of consequence,
And had a story (Barbee)
To tell to all his friends and tenants.

Jared Barbee (the village sot)
Was now a man of wealth and pride,
And Harry Barbee (Mrs. Barbee)
Was left to mourn his wife and bride.

Not Yet.

BY WILLIAM ALLEN BUTLER, ESQ.

Gloriously, sacred to the people,
Oh Union, to you our gratitude grows!
The sky that spread to the north,
Shall it shield the storm-tossed?
Shall it open for the gratitude free?
No, hosts of Days and Blessing, No!

And the sun near thy glorious noon,
Shall we, His children, stand aghast,
While Rebellion dare here to raise aloft
The dreadful Ensign of Treason base?
Forbid it, God, by our precious hearts!
Forbid it, by the memory sacred!
Forbid it, by the sacred dead, No!

And they who founded in our land,
The gem of Republican Government,
Did they to make, or simply plant
To leave their country governed free?
Those sleeping sires from below,
Break up the troubled murmur, No!

Not they the seed of the weak Keg
That's under Rebellion to be sown,
And forged the bloody blade to shine
The life tendency spot to show—
The accursed hand to do to cover?
No, by the sacred memory, No!

Our yearning hearts, our love days,
Revered blood in which we're mingled,
The heavy Mountain with its tears,
The valley, filled rivers of the West,
And Washington's tomb, deep,
And dead Nights, to rise, No!

Not yet the sun in night, oh, not yet
While to the Nations in flight the Peoples and rulers to speak the word
Of good cheer, welcome to the girl
No soon as that, I know, by night be?
No, by the grasp of the dead, No!

For the Flag of our Union.

Mr. Editor:—While you indulge the words to reference to Mr. Whitehead's remarks to the Alliance of Abolition.—Your paper [illegible] what I had said of Mr. W. is correct. I only desired that he might set himself right, and this I told him in a private conversation; as I would not say a word more but he put under a ban of silence as to my speaking. Your course in refusing to publish such articles as this is reprehensible. I will say publicly of the course in calling me a fool, a liar, &c., only that it does have any good to do, it does make a hero. When I wrote, I had supposed that, whatever may have been Mr. W's political views, I was, to say the least, dealing with a gentleman; but I suppose I was mistaken. King Solomon says, "Answer a fool according to his folly" &c. He also says, "Answer not a fool according to his folly." I am at a loss to know which of the two to take; but a little of both would do well. If this correspondence of Mr. W. is a sample of the honesty and discretion to which he seems to think I am aspiring by putting my name in the papers, I tell him I do not envy such greatness; a retired life is far superior.—And that is the profession of Mr. Whitehead, the office-seeker, the candidate, and president. Only "hear the great as folks."

A mistake he has fallen into is that he has appropriated to himself a portion of my article which had no reference to him whatever.—What I said of him and all I said of him, was that he was personally aligned that he was a secessionist, or that he sympathized with the rebellion.—What it does have no reference to he whatever. At this time I did not know that he was a candidate at all, and of course I could have no reference to him or what was said about party politics. This appropriating to himself what was intended for him, shows that the cap has got on the right head and sets easily the long locks.

I would not have mentioned his name when I wrote, if I had known then what I now know; but that is the case in regard to living in Marshall, where he is best known, to speak of him, especially with the South, is to speak of the affairs of our country. I made no charge against him. I told him privately that I could not believe yet that we had secessionists at heart amongst us, yet I do believe that the course of some disloyal men, together with Mr. W.'s living here to have rebellion then they are to favor our government, though not politically as designed by them.

He thinks I should give my authority. I told him I spoke without the consent of those persons, and without the knowledge of a single individual. If I will do this any good I would say that some of those who spoke of him, with Democrats, and they of course are good authority with him.

What Mr. W. says of secessionists, rebels [illegible], and his destruction of the Friedmont, I will say but little. Those rebels have been scattered over and again through the public prints. What secessionists does anybody pretend? Are there rebels preparing for secession? and if they were would we encourage such rebels? I agree with the rebels would be to acknowledge the right of secession at once; would be to abandon the Constitution and acknowledge that the Government had no power to enforce it. What better secession

The Louisville Daily Commercial, the organ of the CLAY-PEACE CLIQUE, is dyspeptical because we published a portion of Mr. Greeley's speech.

Ah! he can't swallow it, and it makes him sick. Because we published it, he says we will be a Democrat in 1872. Many Yankees.

Postmasters' bonds are now required in each case.

Republican majority in Ohio, forty-five thousand.

The New York Times thinks that the debt of the Democratic city of New York amounted to $37 to each voter in 1870, and that of the population of that city. The necessity of this would be better perceived by the additional statement that the entire National Debt amounts to but $50 per head of the entire population of the United States.

Kansas gives a majority to Harvey 11,000.

As Maine goes so goes the Union, say the Democrats.

The Ohio Democracy appear to be utterly disheartened, and all the indications are that they suffer a defeat next month only equaled by that they earned by the nomination of Vallandigham in 1863. McClellan, who has just received every consideration for the past ten or a dozen years, and clamored incessantly for a nomination, is now anxious to exhibit a full share of the responsibilities of the canvass as he was a few weeks ago to assume them. He has fled to Long Branch, after putting forth a dastardly excuse for his desertion, and the Cincinnati Journal says:

> "Mr. McClellan's letter declining to be a candidate for Governor, is a virtual abandonment of the campaign by the Democratic party. It is a confession that they are beaten, and that they have not the courage to meet the issue. It is a cowardly act, and will be so regarded by the people. It is a confession that the Democratic party is afraid to meet the issues of the campaign, and that it is afraid to meet [illegible] entertainment. The advertisement [illegible] on another page. Mr. P. Mears offers a beautiful organ on [illegible] Terre Haute at 8:00.

In the City Court on Tuesday Hunt was convicted, fined $5 to selling liquor on Sundays—his fifteenth—and forfeited his license.

The cold winds of November will soon be sweeping through our streets. And if you don't want to go shivering all winter you had best leave your measure immediately for a good winter suit and a warm overcoat at Hartman's 20 Main street.

Mrs. Bezak Boone, of Terre Haute mother of our fellow citizen, Lemuel Boone, started on Saturday evening for California to visit her son, the Governor elect of California. The latter could not come to her, so she determined to go to him.

Mr. C. R. Lowe has been appointed general ticket agent for the Indianapolis, Cincinnati & Lafayette railroad, vice W. H. L. Noble resigned, who goes to Detroit. The L., C. & L. road is a good one to travel on in going East—clever officers, accommodating conductors, and palaces to ride in.

Professor Hancock, of Darwin, will give an entertainment at the Methodist Church of this place, Wednesday evening, for the benefit of the Sabbath-school connected with that church. The Professor will then give exhibition of his rare curiosities, together with his photographs of Palestine, Rome and Egypt, illustrating views declined will in addition give a very interesting lecture. Admission 25 cents, children 15 cents.

The first issue of the Martinsville Herald appeared on Friday last, with a start of over one hundred copies, which we call pretty fair for the third paper in the county. But the people of that section understand and appreciate a good thing, and are not afraid to invest in anything they think will pay them. Let all who desire to subscribe either give their names and money to Messrs. C. Howard at the Postoffice, who will have charge of the local department, or Jesse Jenkins, who is the canvasser and travelling agent.

We attended the Terre Haute Opera House last Saturday evening last, and witnessed the performance of "Fayette [illegible] and company, who are now performing there. We know Fayette a few years ago, and observe that she has lost none of her life and beauty of acting. The play selected was the "Lancashire Lass," with Fayette as Jane Lancaster. All the company did well, and if any of our citizens desire a pleasant evening they should visit the Opera House to-night, to-morrow afternoon or to-morrow night. It will pay.

Nearly A Fire.—On Tuesday last, at Mr. Kuhn's drug store, Mr. Col. Hickey had his hand severely burned in the following manner: He had placed a glass measure containing benzoline and coal oil on the stove to warm, when suddenly the liquid caught fire, and in attempting to put the blaze out with his hand he received the burns mentioned. The fire was extinguished by the use of water, before any damage was done to the building.

Just received a consignment of Overcoats at Hartman's.

Ladies' Shoes, the finest received only at the Model Shoe Store, where they are selling like Hot Cakes.

The best selling shirts on market at Davenport's, 8 Main street.

Heavy and silver-plated Spectacles, also every variety of Mechanical Instruments at Kimball's, Factory of Music, Terre Haute.

If you want your watch or clock repaired properly, done with thoroughness, call at Kimball's Factory of Music, Terre Haute. Work warranted.

Any person wanting a small farm, situated near enough to town to be convenient to church and school facilities, cannot do better than attend the sale of the lands belonging to William Davis' estate, on next Saturday, at the Court-house. 181 acres of these lands, are situated less than a mile from town, on the Darwin road, the most beautiful road in the State, 40 acres in Johnson township; one third of the purchase money must be paid on the day of sale, balance in six and twelve months. Don't miss the opportunity.

Edward Kinsey's agricultural implement emporium, the most complete and well arranged establishment now existing on the Wabash for the sale of agricultural implements, will be opened for the inspection of the public on Monday next. Mr. Kinsey has been in the business for many years, and is well known to the farmers of this county as a reliable dealer. He has a large and commodious building, and has filled it with the best implements manufactured. Call and see him.

Runaway.—The horse attached to the delivery wagon of the Adams & Jones bank got into his head to run into town on Friday evening about 5 o'clock, and started from the store with nothing behind him except the single whiffletree. He ran down Cumberland to Franklin, where he upset the vehicle, and then dragged it about half a square further, before he was stopped. The result of the race was a broken wheel and nothing more.

Writers of Martinsville last week, we took dinner at the Roberts House, and were highly entertained by what we had. The table was spread with everything that is required to appease the appetite. When you visit Martinsville, be sure to stop at the Roberts House.

Among the pie tables brought home by Mrs. A. Wiltrout is a chunk of the big Court-house bell, which, from the force of the lightning the fire, was broken into three pieces, and not the police received from the attacks of the vandals, it would have soon been reduced to bits and carried away.

Wanted—Everybody to pay their subscription to the Herald, as we intend to deliver [illegible] the present month. We must have [illegible] We will follow the [illegible]

The state story building of the Indiana Asylum for the Insane, Indianapolis, Ind., is to be heated by steam, and pure water runs to every department and room. The cost of the building exceeds one hundred thousand dollars, and for elevating all things the energy of the enterprising publishers, Messrs. Allen & Co., on their great specialty, and as long as their liberal prices are considered, and their publications keep up to their present standard of merit, may their prosperity continue, and constantly increase.—Maine Farmer.

In order to supply the constantly increasing demand for facilities for coal transportation, the Vandalia road recently contracted for two hundred and fifty additional cars, and the first instalment of twenty-five had been received. An equal number will be placed on the line by the first of next week, and it is expected that nearly all will be running within thirty days.

Notwithstanding the hard times, Messrs. Hess & Arnold will begin on January 1st, 1878, their fifth year in business in this city. Their success has been unparalleled in the history of the dry goods trade in Terre Haute. Over $200,000 worth of new stock on the closest cash purchases for cash. Their low prices have created a trade which has increased from year to year, and is to be continued until the day of dissolution.

Hess & Arnold,
Great Cheap House Below.

Stock of L. Doppel & Co's, anti-fat-ulum Shoe Emporium Shoes of every style, Berlin, Bengal, Parisian, Saratoga, &c. Also a full line of heavy double soles at low figures.

Letter from York.

To the Editor of the Herald:

The farmers in this vicinity are about through gathering corn. The yield of corn runs from twenty to seventy bushels of ears, and very much scattered. The prairie is what has come out above the late rains beyond all expectations, and will fair to make a full crop.

The excitement over the elections is not very high, not more than half the people voted, and what are not, do not appear to care how they vote.

Wm. Beals, who purchased an interest in the steamer Kit, lately purchased by Palmyra Kraben, Captain Evans, taking charge of the boat, is confident of the fact that business will be done up to the right kind of order.

Mr. Briscoe passed through town a few days ago, with a large drove of cattle going below to stock fields for pasture.

A man by the name of Miller has pressed a shingle machine running by horse power up on Mill creek, near Jordan Corners. They carry on business lively.

The health is good in this vicinity; the Doctors are at leisure. The most prominent one says, he has not had a call for two days; another has gone to hunting wood.

Willard Welch has sold his horse, getting $60 cash per pound.

Mr. Sam Laney, our sheriff, is in town. He is generally at home for short time.

All any subscribers who desire to pay their indebtedness to the HERALD, must understand that we prefer to have money only, although we shall accept wood. We want eighteen inch stove wood, of a good merchantable quality, for which we will allow the best prices.

Many weddings to come. The season promises to be lively.

Wm. Christian is putting forward his new dwelling house in the West End.

Hancock's hall frieze on the roof this week, and is to be finished to completion.

We learn that work on the new railroad from Danville to Olney, has been resumed at Olney.

We congratulate our friend and contributor Hon. Lew Ely, on his safe return from Washington.

The Prairie City Comedians are perfecting the most complete arrangements for their opening ball at Dowling Hall, on Thursday night of next week.

Chapman's new block is nearly ready for occupancy throughout. Hon. Chas. Chapman's new room is large, and the various babitators go in over head.

Of their last threat—that's the one the New York Sun exclaims the Clandestine Importation of Being came from our benighted city. We know the guilty parties well that is on for the exposure which they fear—so we hereby notify them—that at the right time, with an eye single to their own interests.

We call attention to the advertisement of the engagement of the Dunkin troupe, at the Opera-house, commencing on Monday evening next. The play selected is a thrilling drama, and the company excellent. The admission has been fixed at fifty and seventy five cents, and reserved seats can be secured by letter or in person, at R. G. Cox's book store.

We are under many obligations to Messrs. Dick and Fitzgerald, of New York, for two very entertaining little works entitled "How to write Advertisements" by R. A. Fitzgerald, and "Ready made Speeches," by Joseph Rather. They are gotten up in very neat form, with pictorial covers, and will be sent to any address for thirty cents.

RAMSEY, Page, of Marshall called on us last week. He informs us that he purposes shortly to make some investments here for the mitigation of Cumberland county. There are some traits of enterprise in Richmond that might prove interesting to investigate. Argus.

The Terre Haute Gazette one of the best papers that comes to our sanctum, has at last finally been enabled to obtain the telegraphic dispatches of the Pacific and Atlantic telegraphs, for which it has labored for over a year.

Professor Hendrix, of Danville, gave a very interesting and entertaining exhibition at the M. E. Church on the evening of the 17th inst., for the benefit of the Sunday school connected with that church.

Publication Notice.—Notice is hereby given that I have been appointed administrator of the estate of Oliver Hendrix, late of York township, deceased, and have qualified as such. Oliver Hendrix.

Rev. M. A. Leonard, late pastor of the Covington Road Church has been appointed Presiding Elder of the Danville District, having organized the Terre Haute Conference Church in Terre Haute on the 15th of November, 1871.

Persons following Gardening, indebted to the undersigned for Agricultural implements, will please call and settle by paying the notes by the 15th of December, after which time they will find their notes in the hands of an officer for collection.

Anthony & Evans.

THANKS, many thanks to Hon. Peter Van Winkle Hendrix, for a basket of fine apples. May his purse never grow less.

TAKE NOTICE.—We are closing out our stock of Carpets at less than wholesale prices. Call and see us. L. Bright & Co.

Martinsville Locals.

We learn that our young neighbor (not absent) who announced himself a few weeks since as a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney, subject to the decision of the Democratic Primary Election next spring, has withdrawn his name from the contest; well he must.

One entrance was corrupted for the first time on Saturday evening last, by a respectable number of ladies. We were much pleased by the situation, and after remaining a few hours were relieved on full for his further appearance.

Johnson Kiser of Crawford county, who built the agricultural warehouse, near the Depot recently, has purchased property and removed to this place, at his future home.

John J. Wise, who has been in the Peruvian business here for some time past, having sold his farm to some gentleman the property of Jackson Andrews, has gone to Iowa.

Samuel Lindsey, who has been for the last few weeks on a visit to his parents and acquaintances making his rounds just finished and started for home.

A letter from Dr. Hendricks now at Independence Kansas, is very encouraging, stating a good practice and a fine country to locate in. Success to the doctor.

Dr. Hendricks is having a new brick walk laid in front of his residence on Main street. Dr. Hendricks will also have a fine [illegible] Yard in the Rear.

Mr. [illegible] has purchased the Office of Justice M. Hendricks, and has moved it back to the rear of the lot, where it will be used as a [illegible] Office. Mr. [illegible] will also have a fine [illegible] Yard in the Rear.

THE DEDICATION BALL.

Burke's New Hall Brilliantly Illuminated.

A Large and Select Assembly.

THE OPENING A SUCCESS.

We run up through the papers, and to Neil Holmes, Howard Hall has celebrated his new hall by a grand social ball on Wednesday evening, February 15, 1871. It was generally admitted that a larger and more select company had not been assembled to do for Pan since the interior of Plaskett's saloon had been refitted on that occasion.

The hall was beautifully illuminated, eight chandeliers of the very latest pattern from Hulman & Co's, and a large number of side lights, all of which were kept burning brilliantly throughout the evening.

[illegible] was excellent, and was composed of some of our best citizens, together with ladies and gentlemen from Spring Hill, Riley, Prairie, Maxwell, Otter Creek, Honey Creek, Pleasant Valley, Harrison, Linton, Terre Haute, Indianapolis, Greencastle, Paris, Ill., and other points, numbering [illegible] persons.

The supper was excellent, and was served in the dining room of the hall. Every thing to make the evening satisfactory to all present, and the management of the ball, were in the hands of Messrs. Burke & Hall, and Mrs. Burke, who had charge of the supper, and whose labors in this direction were highly appreciated by all present.

Morning.

At three o'clock supper was announced, and the large assembly repaired to the dining room, where they were seated to [illegible] loaded with everything that could be desired by the inner man. Just when the supper was over, a splendid [illegible] was supplied to, with Sergeant Hilton in command, in the best and finest style, presided at the organ, and drove home to the very core.

The hall is one hundred feet deep by forty in width, and is capable of seating seven hundred people. The ceiling is eighteen feet high, ornamented in three colors beautifully painted, from which is suspended three large chandeliers, containing twenty-four burners. The floor is to be waxed in half sheets, and is also to be [illegible] in the center.

The stage is finely furnished by neatly white with a number of [illegible] set in white, which is to be supplied with [illegible] drapery. The wings, [illegible] curtains on each side, are [illegible] painted, while two pieces of Stationery paper ornament the sides of the opening from another stage the top. Our Manufacturing Facilities.

Owing to the immense forests of heavy oak, walnut and hickory timber adjacent to Marshall, the location proved favorable for manufactories. Such work as the sawing of plows, moldes, agricultural implements and hard wood lumber, could be prepared at a splendid advantage. Coal Digby conveniently at hand is cheaper than it can be delivered at Terre Haute road. Timber & lands adjacent to the Town can be purchased at low rates, and shipping facilities are tolerably good, but will soon be better.

Society in Marshall is good. We have six churches, each possessed of a good house of worship, a large, commodious and well colonized heating and several of the best schools, all of which are supported by a liberal tax. The citizens are noted for their enterprise and hospitality.

As a health, we defy the world. Marshall is situated upon a rolling elevation and the country surrounding is unexcelled. Nobody is known from the vicinity of the town.

Persons desiring to locate in a healthy and thriving town, with the advantages of a good market for their products, will find Marshall the place.

Public Sales.

A CATALOGUE of Stock to be sold by Public Sale at the Terre Haute Fair Grounds, on the 20th of February, 1872, will be published next week. The Stock to be offered are the property of Messrs. Wm. Cox & Son, well known breeders of Short Horn Cattle, and Messrs. Cox & Son, well known breeders of Short Horn Cattle, and Messrs. Cox & Son, well known breeders of Short Horn Cattle.

Mr. Wm. Cox has for sale at his residence, one mile south of Terre Haute, a number of Short Horn Cattle, which he will sell at reasonable prices. Those wishing to purchase will do well to call on him.

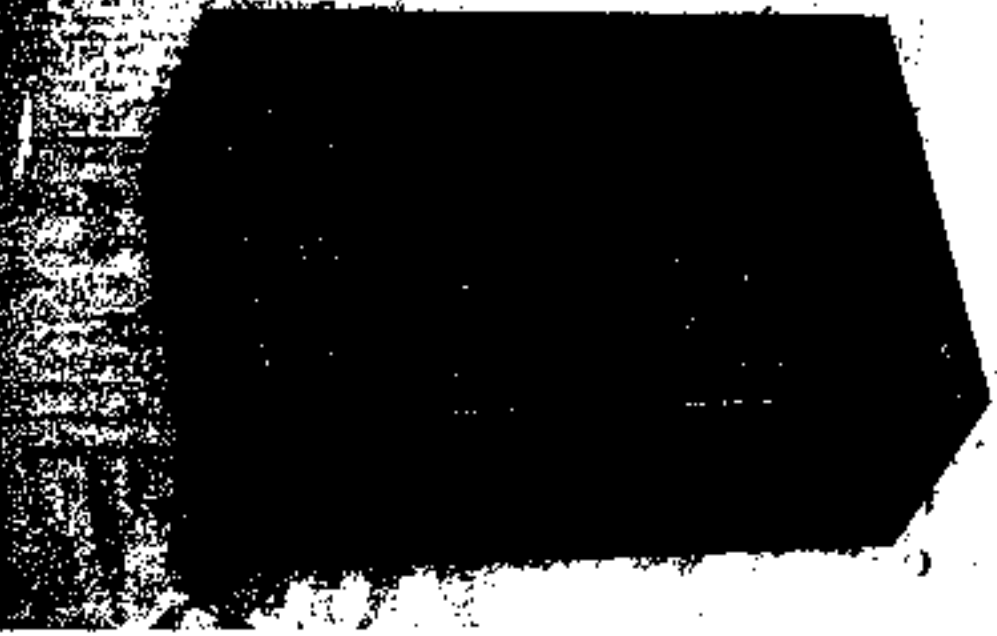
In the 1930s, the Sane Crystals Medical Laboratories occupied a building at Sixth and Locust Streets, which presently houses the Marshall Moose Lodge. (Submitted by Harvey Kesler)

GOOD NEWS

We are pleased to recommend and offer for sale the NATION'S GREATEST FAMILY REMEDY, DR. PEARCE'S NEW DISCOVERY, GENUINE SANE MINERAL WELLS, TEXAS, CRYSTALS. A MINERAL WATER PRODUCTS, MEDICATED, IMPROVED.



HEALTH BETTER AFTER TAKING SANE CRYSTALS

Sane Crystals for Sane People

To Whom This May Concern:

I, Eurma Shaffer, of 925 So. 15th Street, wish the public to know the great good Dr. Edward Pearce's Sane Crystals have done for me. For the past number of years I have suffered with high blood pressure, indigestion, gallstones, I had almost lost my eye-sight, I suffered death many times most all the time confined to my bed, no control over my kidneys, I am so thankful to Bella Adams of 454 No. 6th St., Terre Haute, Ind., she having advised me of the fact that the SANE CRYSTALS Dr. Pearce's New Discovery, Genuine Sane Mineral Wells, Texas, Crystals Medicated. After taking 3 packages, thankfully I am to Mrs. Adams, also to Dr. Pearce, I can now realize why thousands of users of SANE CRYSTALS, recommend them so highly, and why it is that Dr. Pearce's 58 years of successful medical practice have enabled him to make the greatest known discovery for mankind, Sane Crystals.

Three boxes of Sane Crystals have made me a well woman. High blood pressure gone, kidney trouble no-more, the gallstones have disappeared, and I enjoy eating whatever I desire.

My eyesight has been restored, my nervous system corrected. I make this statement of my own accord as I am only too glad to let other people know the real good I have received and that they can also receive it.

EURMA SHAFFER,
Terre Haute, Indiana.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, a Notary Public, this 5th day of May, 1932.

NOT AN EXPERIMENT

DR. EDWARD PEARCE, eminent physician, having had 50 years successful medical practice, has succeeded in blending the medicinal qualities of the THREE MOST NOTED MINERAL WATERS. Recommended by physicians and druggists.

The contents of each package have been carefully compounded and prepared by SANE MEDICAL LABORATORIES, MARSHALL, ILLINOIS, to conform with the Pure Food Laws, under the supervision of Robert A. Cadmel, registered pharmacist.

SANE CRYSTALS, being a genuine mineral water product, crystallized, should be kept in a cool place, (in a refrigerator, if possible) during hot weather; however, should they become dry or moist they have lost none of their fine medicinal qualities. Ordinarily one package makes 15 gallons. A refreshing, beneficial drink.

Read directions carefully on package. Increase or decrease the amount in keeping with your individual requirements. They give entire satisfaction.

Dear Doctor Pearce:

I am writing you because I feel that I would be doing the public and you an injustice if I did not let you know the wonderful Cures that DOCTOR EDWARD PEARCE'S NEW DISCOVERY SANE CRYSTALS have done for me. I had Gall Bladder trouble, Sugar Diabetes and Dropsy. I doctored with the best known physicians for over four years.

I took seven bottle of another brand of Crystals that we advertised over the air but got little or no good.

A friend of mine met Mella Adams and asked her to call on me. She advised me to try taking Sane Crystals. She said that I would find relief and if not my money would be refunded.

I had a terrible breaking out and boils like the majority of people who suffer with sugar diabetes for months I was not able to get a night's rest.

I purchased a box of DR. EDWARD PEARCE'S SANE CRYSTALS and received relief from my first box. At this time I have taken five boxes of these Wonderful Crystals. My boils are entirely cleared, I never felt so well in my life. I have gained in weight and my sugar diabetes is entirely cleared. I am now taking my fifth box of Crystals and will continue to take them as long as I live.

My advice to all sufferers is to try SANE CRYSTALS. They will be sold you on a Money back guarantee. They cured me in the condition I was in and they will do the same for you.

"WEEK AFTER WEEK I SUFFERED AS ONLY THAT MAN FRIDAY CALLED HERETIC WOMAN OF 4 THOUSAND YEARS AGO"

Indianapolis, Indiana
Sane Crystal Laboratories,
Marshall, Illinois
Dear Sirs:

For years I suffered from the gruesome combination of diseases—constipation, piles, trouble, colitis and toxic poison. My keepsake and I spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and medicine, but to no avail. The constipation not only made me weak and tired and lack of breath, but kept me rheumatic—with terrible pain. My kidneys were continually troubling me, and it was with great effort that I kept away from the hospital for a kidney operation—anyone who has ever had kidney trouble surely knows of the terrible pain that goes with it. I had several attacks of appendicitis which left me with a severe case of rickets. The colon was almost entirely closed. I tried almost everything for this. This seemed not sufficient to stave off my mind with appendicitis and my body with pain, for it seemed that my entire body was filled to full capacity with toxic poison. I had to take something every night to put me to sleep. I had always in the water that my ... and I had great difficulty in getting started. Also, I had internal pains of terrible nature ... Added to ... my blood pressure very high.

My relatives and friends called me the Witness of a Collected personality. I certainly had them all. I had all these delicate matter diseases and the adjustments that supplement severe constipation. I was a wreck—in, wonder I spent hundreds of dollars for help. I was just about ready to give it up as a bad job when one day my landlord turned on the radio, and "Lo" like a flash out of the clear sky announcer announced—"Sane Crystals," and what they had done and would do for suffering humanity. My landlord went immediately to the Woods drug store and got a box—just Sane Crystals for Sane People. Within one month there was an improvement, then in three months I could go where I wished and drive my car without pain. Within six months I was saved—cured—cured.

I never can say enough for Sane Crystals.

Very respectfully
MRS. C. H. BROWN.

"THAT TIRED WORN OUT FEELING"—RUN DOWN CONDITION

Dr. Edward Pearce, and Whoever This May Concern:
Dear Sir:

After taking three boxes of your Sane Crystals I have only to thank for what wonders they have done for me. I feel like a new person. I have by myself got rid down, felt happy all the time. My wife believed me terribly. Several doctors suggested an operation would be necessary. I tried lots of different kinds of pills and medicine to correct my constipation but results were only temporary until one day I heard of the EDWARD PEARCE'S NEW DISCOVERY SANE CRYSTALS advertised over the air, and decided to give them a trial, under the fair play guarantee—to satisfy or your money back from my druggist. Seated, the chemist Dr. Edward Pearce, M. D., having had 50 years successful medical practice has provided with the aid of competent chemists and Dr. U. S. Discoverer—which he is helping—to most exactly imparting and blending the medicinal qualities contained in some of the world's most noted mineral waters, using only such rich and harmless necessary ingredients contained in certain mineral waters of the U. S. A. which, U. S. grade, mixed of the included grade, of such ingredients as no one mineral well, to his knowledge containing all the necessary ingredients, nor is there any one well that does not contain some of the ingredients of only the minimal grade, therefore, SANE CRYSTALS

...UNSURPASSED — contain only such harmless products of the approved pharmaceutical standards of purest vegetable products. If it were possible that any one mineral water contain only such U. S. A. approved Pharmaceutical products as contained in SANE CRYSTALS, would almost equal the long search for "Fountain of Youth."

PURITY. In most every city in the country the Water Companies are compelled by law to purify the water according to strict regulations. All types of water, whether from streets, mineral waters or wells should be purified before it is absolutely fit for the human consumption. A very small quantity of Sane Crystals added to your drinking water will suffice.

DR. PEARCE'S NEW DISCOVERY

"Sane Crystals for Sane People"

One of the Nation's Greatest Family Laxatives, Unsurpassed.

The quality of SANE CRYSTALS are established by the facts that only such mild and harmless approved U. S. Pharmaceutical products as are contained in some of the World's most noted Mineral Waters are used and of the U. S. P. grade instead of technical grade contained in mineral waters.

To subdue an unpleasant symptom may give temporary relief, and excite the surprise of those who look only at the surface of things; but to restore a shattered constitution to normal condition—that is scientific medication. Therefore, SANE CRYSTALS FOR SANE PEOPLE.

Dr. Edward Pearce's New Discovery Sane Crystals, a true laxative—unsurpassed, an aid to nature to bring relief to those unfortunates, who suffer from kidney, stomach, liver, and bowel disorders and the great number of diseases and ailments which arise from a disordered colon and faulty elimination.

Moose Building: Full of history, full of promise

by Gary Strohm

Like most area residents, I've never paid the Moose Building at the corner of Locust and 5th Streets all my life. I often wondered what the inside of that ugly brick building was like. Like most, I never went in. Until last month.

Main Street manager Pat McCammon and Moose manager Don Clark explained a bit of the building's history. The first time we originally the stucco. They showed me the boarded-up arched doorways where images once entered. Pat carefully cut the brown stains in the concrete which made the new stucco to clean. The repaired the ceilings, despite a few holes here and there, up on the roof. Pat explained that roof can be repaired to look like new.

Next, we headed up a wide, old stairway to the second floor. I'd heard much about this room but could hardly believe

There was no sign of water damage or deterioration which one would expect in a building of this age. The wood floor is in excellent condition. The most obvious feature is the balcony which encircles three sides of the rectangular room.

Pat explained that there was also a stage on the south end of the giant room (the side without balcony).

It was quite easy to see why Marshal Main Street Program is so interested in saving the building preserved. The second floor would be splendid for a wedding reception, dance, any sort of social gathering. And it would be wonderful place for plays if a stage were setup on the south end.

For some reason, the acoustics in the room are excellent. There aren't any modern acoustical tiles on the ceiling. It was simply made that way.

On the way out, Don showed me the deed to the property that dated back to when Mr. Archer and Mr. Duncan purchased the sections of land which are now Marshall from the federal government for $200. That was in the 1830's when Andrew Jackson was president.

Later on Main Street treasurer and historical aficionado Damon Mabry explained that the building was built in approximately 1922 as Harlan Hall. Mr. Harlan also ran the hotel (later the Marshall Hotel) across the street.

Damon explained that in the days before TV, VCR's, and even radio, entertainers and speakers would travel from town to town to perform. Nearly every town had some sort of hall to accommodate them.

In the late 1920's, Mr. Harlan expanded. Historical data states that in the building. Among the items listed in the sale were "Stage equipment."

Damon explains that the 1933 history of Marshall tells the building at one of the largest pieces of Marshall with electric lights and a ceiling fan."

In the 1920's, the building was a factory for Crazy Crystals.

Dr. George Mitchell recalls watching basketball games there. It was the largest hall in Marshall and there were no center supports in the way of basketball play. High School graduations were held there. It was also used as a dancing rink.

The Moose purchased the building in the 1950's. At one time the club operated a kitchen on the second floor. Present club activities are held on the first floor.

Mr. Mabry explains that two architects have checked the building recently and found it to be architecturally sound.

The Moose put on a new roof recently. The organization is very interested in having it preserved.

The Moose Building is probably the oldest building downtown. It certainly has tremendous character. Damon explains. "The building is a cornerstone of the Hawthorn business community."

Later on, Main Street treasurer and historical aficionado Damian Maxey explained that the building was built in approximately 1917 as Nelson Hall. Mr. Nelson also ran the hotel (now the Marshall House) across the street.

Damian explained that in the days before TV, VCR's, and even radio, comedians and speakers would travel from town to town to perform. Nearly every town had some sort of hall to accommodate them.

In the late 1920's, Mr. Nelson experienced financial difficulties and sold the building. Among the items listed in the sale was: "Stage rotating unit."

Dear Chris:

Enclosed please find a Design Assistance Request Form from the City of Marshall for design services for the recently purchased "Moose Building" on the corner of South Sixth and Locust Streets.

When Anthony was here recently, he took several pictures of the exterior of the building and he and Christina were able to view the interior as well. Needless to say, Main Street is thrilled and excited about the saving and restoration of this piece of Marshall's past.

We are looking forward to your suggestions and drawings.

Happy holidays to you and all the staff.

Sincerely,

Pat McCammon

History of Harlan Hall after Mr. Harlan

By Veda Amacher McManus
Staff Writer

By 1887 Harlan had financial problems and he had sold the hotel and opera house. Both of these businesses continued and the livery stable also continued to do business with the public.

Jo Ann Strange recalls her mother telling of a visit she made to Harlan Hall in the late 1890's. Her mother saw the play, "Ben Hur." They had a live horse on the stage moving along on a treadmill. In the background the scenery was being rotated on some sort of cylinder to appear that the horse was moving across the land.

Mrs. Strange also recalls the story of her father courting her mother. He rented a carriage from the livery stable and if you were gone a long time you had to buy an extra bag of oats for 5 cents.

At the turn of the century, a building was constructed between what is now Harlan Hall and the grocery store. This building was two stories in the front and one story in the back. It became an auto repair shop that was eventually torn down. The windows of Harlan Hall were bricked in.

In 1904 the building was purchased by B. F. Johnson and became known as Johnson Hall. Johnson had a real estate business and several other businesses.

About that same time, the Knights of Pythias bought a building on Locust and put in a theater with elevated seats and began showing silent films. Helen Moore, Basil's wife, played the piano for the early silent films. This eventually became the Strand Theater. (In July 1957 the theater burned.)

During 1909 Johnson Hall was predominantly a skating rink. It also hosted boxing matches and bowling. There were hog houses being built on the second floor during this time.

Through the years, the building was used for a Hercules Paint Store. It was also a manufacturing facility for "Sane Crystal." Sane Crystal was supposed to be a "cure all", but it was actually a laxative. It was a manufacturing facility for clothes bags. Hollenbeck made paper bags for dry-cleaning.

The first floor was an International Harvester Dealership, owned by Laird's, while the upstairs was used for various types of parties, etc.

1954 the Johnson heirs sold the building to the Legal Order of Moose Lodge. The lodge poured new cement floors, possibly to level it up and put in drop ceilings, paneling, restrooms, kitchens, and a bar and took out the original stage.

Some receptions were held at the Moose Lodge. Part of it was a dance studio for a while. The lodge sponsered bingo night for several years until it closed last spring.

The City of Marshall received a grant for a community center and purchase the building from the Moose. Part of the grant was used to make the original purchase and the rest of the money will be used for restoration.

Harlan Hall is a project that we can all be proud of.

The building has already been used for a few functions, and there is a tremendous future to be found in this wonderful historic structure.

Take some time to visit the building and find out what you can do to continue the growth of our special architectural heritage. Plan on volunteering your time and energy to this worthwhile cause. It belongs to all of us. For more information call 826-8087.

Marshall's Harlan Hall is coming to life once again

By BECKY SHRADER
Beacon-News Staff Writer

MARSHALL — In 1872, Harlan Hall was designed to be an Opera House and cultural center for 600 to 1,000 people who would watch the town's budding and talented citizens.

Today, Harlan Hall is on the National Historic Register, is being run by a $500,000 grant from taxpayers' money by the City of Marshall and the original dream is one of history.

The original brick building at 603 Locust Street in Marshall was the cultural hub of the Clark County Courthouse for years after the existing opera house.

Marshall is working with the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency to restore Harlan Hall to what it looked like back in the 1870s.

Developers now will restore a grand center with original details. Operation Main Street, meeting there in Harlan Center, plans to use Hall for Main Street and Page, a Historic Road Interpretive Center and a Marshall History Museum. Since Marshall is on the National Road route, it would be perfect for the interpretive center for visitors traveling the National Road corridor.

In the late 1800s Harlan Hall housed about theatrical productions, social services, Marshall graduation, baptismal services, literary societies, dancing parties, ballroom dances and musical programs in the massive ballroom. The brick building was perhaps one of the most beautiful in the town, but have been in [illegible] to be one of the most [illegible], according to Charles Duff, Clark County Historical Society president.

Harlan Hall update

What's being done??! That's the question "asked" around town.

While it may not show on the outside, a lot of work is (and has been) done inside.

Downstairs, structural beams have been added, walls built, partial concrete floor poured, plumbing, electrical wiring, and dry wall installed just to name a small portion of work done.

Upstairs and on the balcony, partitions have been removed, holes and cracks in the plastering have been repaired and walls are ready to paint. The work is moving along.

As soon as enough additional funds are available, the Committee would like to see the outside west wall of the building scraped and tuck pointed to enhance the exterior of the building.

The Committee hopes to be able to rent the second floor for events and activities by late summer or early fall.

Mr. Jerry Rail of the National Road Association has applied for a grant to be utilized for second story and balcony restoration. Harlan Hall will serve as a Welcome Center on the east side of the State of Illinois for the National Road. It will be an interpretive center (museum) about the National Road and space will also be devoted to Marshall's history as well. A large portion of the grant will be used to install an elevator to make the second floor and balcony handicapped accessible.

Harlan Hall Committee members appointed by Mayor Ken Smith include Chairman Harley Bennet, Bud Woodworth, Steve Airey, Usman Macey, Jim Schwartz, Charlotte Morecraft, Jackie Kitchen, Charlie Garrett, Sam and Ruth Deahl, and Mitz Snedeker. Pat McCammon has been appointed project manager.

Thanks to the generosity of the Marshall Area Chamber of Commerce and an anonymous donor, the project manager has been given an office in the Chamber building, 708 Archer Avenue. As soon as the space designated for an office in Harlan Hall is completed, the manager will move to that location. The phone number is 826-2496.

To all of the individuals and organizations that have donated time and financial resources, the City and Harlan Hall Committee say "thank you!" With the cooperation and help of everyone, the goal of restoring Harlan Hall to its former glory can be accomplished.

The Committee will hold regular meetings at Harlan Hall on the third Monday morning of each month at 8:30 a.m. Several subcommittees have been formed and anyone wishing to volunteer will be welcome. The June meeting will be held Monday, June 20, at the Chamber Building, 708 Archer Avenue.

For further information or to volunteer, please call Harlan Hall at 217-826-2496.

Harlan Hall receives Governor's Home Town Award

On Tuesday, November 27, members of the Harlan Hall committee were invited to a luncheon in Springfield to receive a 2007 Governor's Home Town Award.

The award is a recognition given to people across the state who have worked to improve the communities in which they live. Forty projects were recognized at the 26th annual awards ceremony. Governor Blagojevich stated, "The Home Town Awards are an opportunity for us to say thank you for their hard work which helps improve the quality of life for communities across Illinois."

The Harlan Hall project placed first for Clean Up/Beautification in Category 2 -- Communities with a Population of 2,501-5,000. This award is a nice recognition for the many volunteers who have spent so many hours on the restoration of Harlan Hall.

PRESERVING THE PAST

Community renovation project uncovers Marshall building's original look

By Mark Bennett

Damian Macey guided a visitor up the stairs leading to the upper floor of Harlan Hall.

Looking over his shoulder as he climbed, Macey asked: "Do you hear that?"

The only sounds were those shoe soles challenging even the finest wood. "There's not a creak in that stairway at all," Macey said, smiling.

The name of the architect who designed Harlan Hall nearly 150 years ago is a mystery. It's probably on a shelf somewhere, Macey guessed. Despite the anonymity, that 30th century craftsman gets a lot of praise these days.

An ongoing community preservation project has uncovered the Italianate style building's original look.

Harlan Hall has lived several lives since its construction began in 1871 and it was unveiled with a Valentine's Day ball on Feb. 14, 1874, but it began as an opera hall and theater.

City awarded $1.6 million for Streetscape, Harlan Hall

Marshall on Iaw awarded $1,416,730 for Phase I of its downtown Streetscape project and $219,700 for restoration of masonry at Harlan Hall.

The Streetscape project will provide for replacement of the sidewalks on both sides of the streets around the courthouse square and east along Locust Street from 6th St. to Route 1.

Phase I envisioned the replacement of sidewalks along Archer Avenue from Route 1 to 6th Street nearly ten years ago.

The projects were among $80 million in federal transportation enhancement funds announced by Governor Pat Quinn for bicycle paths, streetscape beautification and other improvement projects in communities around Illinois. The funding is a part of the Illinois Transportation Enhancement Program (ITEP), a federally-funded competitive grant program that promotes alternative means of transportation. The most recent round of awards includes a total of 120 Illinois projects and is expected to create or retain 500 jobs.

"This federal funding will give communities throughout Illinois the opportunity to beautify their streets, develop bike paths and improve living areas," said Governor Quinn. "These community-based projects will create jobs, expand travel choices, enhance safety and improve the quality of life for Illinoisans."

The ITEP is designed to improve transportation safety and the quality of life and alters by promoting alternative transportation, bike and pedestrian travel, and streetscape beautification. The federal funds are awarded competitively, and only local or state government with taxing authority is eligible to apply. Local matching funds are required, and work must begin on the projects within three years.

"We are pleased to announce the federal special project funding for communities across the state," said Illinois Department of Transportation Secretary Gary Hannig. "Thanks to this funding, transportation enhancement projects will make Illinois a better place to work, live, do business and raise a family."

The Illinois Department of Transportation received 291 applications requesting ITEP funding totaling just under $370 million.

Last year, Illinois received funding for forty-eight transportation projects totaling $22 million through the ITEP.

The program is funded through SAFETEA-LU, the federal surface transportation funding bill.

The City of Casey received $565,500 for Streetscape improvements at the intersection of Main Street and Cedar Avenue in downtown Casey.

Palestine was awarded $822,880 for Streetscape and Beautification projects.

Harlan Hall to receive state preservation award

On Saturday, October 23, Harlan Hall in Marshall will be one of nine historic sites honored by Landmarks Illinois as part of the Richard H. Driehaus Foundation Preservation Awards. This 16th-annual event honors individuals, organizations and projects throughout the state that represent excellence in historic preservation.

Cherie Thompson

"This year's award-winning projects are truly the best of the best," said Jim Peters, President of Landmarks Illinois. "They show how historic buildings can be saved in a variety of economically successful ways—by owners and communities committed to protecting their architectural heritage."

Built in 1872, Harlan Hall originally served as Marshall's opera house, with a horse stable on the first floor. After years of deterioration, the hall was threatened with demolition to become a parking lot. The threat to the building attracted the attention of local advocates, who pushed for saving it. The City purchased the hall in 1998, intending to restore the historic building and use it as a community center.

The project was largely financed by local fundraising efforts, including the "Buy a Seat in Harlan Hall" program and a single $100,000 donation from a local business. Over 25,000 volunteer hours also were put into the building's preservation. Marshall is the easternmost Illinois community on the historic National Road (U.S.40) and the community received a grant from the Illinois National Road Association to create a Welcome Center on the hall's second floor.

Harlan Hall is now home to a variety of local organizations, services, and events—from a lunch program for senior citizens to Marshall's high school prom. The awards jury was especially impressed with the community's effort on this project noting that "it provides a good example of preservation for communities large and small around the state."

Other award winners around the state were: Buckingham Building, Chicago-Adaptive Use; Chautauqua Pavilion, Pana-Restoration; Haskell, Barker, and Atwater Buildings, Chicago-Restoration; Carolyn Oxtoby, Springfield-Lifetime Achievement; Polo Historical Society, Polo-Leadership; Preservation Summer, Carbondale-Project of the Year, Education; St. John's Episcopal Church, Quincy-Reconstruction; University Commons, Chicago-President's Awards, Adaptive Use.

Since 1994, Landmarks Illinois has been assisted by a generous grant from the Richard H. Driehaus Foundation to honor those whose work demonstrates a commitment to excellence in historic preservation and inspire others to take action to preserve, protect and promote historic resources throughout Illinois.

The award itself is a small-scale replica of the entrance arch and a portion of the Trading Room from Louis Sullivan's Chicago Stock Exchange building, which was demolished in 1972. The fight to save this important part of Chicago's built environment led to the founding of Landmarks Illinois in 1971. In addition, winners receive a $500 cash award.

The awards ceremony will be held on October 23, from 4:30 - 7:30pm at The Chicago Club and is open to the public. Tickets are available at $40 for members and $50 for non-members. To make a reservation, contact Landmarks Illinois at 312-922-1742.

Landmarks Illinois would like to thank the members of this year's awards jury for generously donating their time and expertise: Michael Allen, Preservation Research Office, St. Louis; Jean Follett, Historic Preservation Consultant, Hinsdale; Thom Greene, Greene & Proppe Design, Chicago; Marty Harper, Leo Burnett, Chicago; Karla Kaufuss, Historic Preservation Planner, Geneva; and Hank Norris, Brinkoetter & Associates Realtors, Decatur.

Landmarks Illinois is the state's leading voice for historic preservation. Since its founding in 1971, the 2,500-member statewide organization has saved countless architectural and historic treasures throughout Illinois. Landmarks Illinois' mission today focuses on saving buildings, facilitating preservation, and educating the public through innovative programs and promotion. Harlan Hall may open by summer

By Gary Strohm

Tremendous progress has been made in the last two years on the city's historic Harlan Hall at 6th and Locust.

The committee which has been overseeing the building's renovation since the City of Marshall purchased the building in 2001, hopes to have it clean and open for public use in time for the National Road Festival June 16-18.

The crown jewel of the building is the fabulous 40' by 126' hall on the second floor. The giant room was host to hundreds of theatrical and musical performances, high school graduations and other events through the years.

Harley Bennet, chairman of the Harlan Hall Committee, explained that the building was built in 1872 in such a way that performers could be heard throughout the hall without the use of microphones which, of course, didn't exist anyway.

Theater historians have told the committee that Harlan Hall was patterned after the Granger lecture halls with big windows on the east and west for ventilation during the summer and great acoustics.

To demonstrate the superb acoustics, Mr. Bennet and I stood at opposite ends of the long hall and could hear each other perfectly as we spoke in a normal tone of voice.

The balcony, which wraps around most of the hall, will become a museum of the history of Marshall and the National Road, said Harley. It will also become an interpretative center for the National Road. Some artifacts have already been donated. The committee plans to include the Moose mural from the first floor of the building and the Moose Lodge mosaic which was removed from the floor.

You have likely noticed the tuckpointing work which was done on the Locust Street side of the 10,000-foot structure. According to Bennet, all of the exterior brick will eventually be tuckpointed. But this process is very expensive. It cost $13,000 to tuckpoint the Locust Street side.

The first floor of the building will serve as a senior citizen center and a teen center.

The main door on the north side will open into a lounge area. Plumbing has been roughed out for bathrooms. Wall studs are in place for a meeting room and privacy room to be used for blood pressure tests, tax counseling, etc.

The mid section of the building will be a dining room. A full kitchen will be constructed just south of the dining room. It will to a parking lot for its employees.

The second property rezoned is owned by Jerry and Judith Nave. It is on Route 1, north of Randy's Auto Shop. It has been sold to an individual for a small implement business.

Finance Committee chairman Jim Anderson called a committee meeting for Thursday at 6:30pm to discuss writing off debts and other matters.

The collector's report was read and approved. Treasurer Larry Woodard reported the City's account balance of $7,301,806.72 and total revenue bonds payable of $3,569,000.

It was reported that $3,236.53 was collected in police fines for the month.

Building permit fees of $25 was collected. Building permits issued were Darren Thompson, fence, $10 fee. David L. Meeker, rear deck and front porch, $15 fee.

The council voted to pay $1,146,972.28 in bills.

After paying bills, the council went into executive session to discuss hiring co-counsel for a matter of litigation.

include a dumb waiter with access to the second floor. The Peace Meal Program plans to locate in the building upon the completion of the senior center.

A teen center is planned for the south end of the first floor. Former horse stalls will house a computer room and a vending/video machine room. The original horse stall doors are still in place and still in working order. They will remain intact. There's already a pool table in the building. It was left by the Moose Lodge.

According to Bennet, the big door on the south end of the building will be replaced with a window.

The new heating and air conditioning units have arrived and will be installed when the new electric and gas lines are installed.

Eventually, an elevator will be installed. The City of Marshall has applied to the State for funding.

Much of the remodeling work on Harlan Hall has been done by volunteers. Lately City workmen have made great progress when the weather has kept them from working outside. Tuesday they busted up the old concrete flooring in the bathroom area.

Many area businesses have donated material and labor for the project.

Of particular note, Ye Olde Glass Shoppe is replacing and glazing all of the windows. Dutch Ertel Center provided the high lift for painting the overhang and sandblasting.

As for the tin which once covered the ceiling of the first floor, it was removed and is now stacked neatly. Every piece which is salvagable will be repainted and placed on the ceiling of the lounge and hallway.

LOCATION:

The Harlan Hall Opera House is located at 603 Locust Street facing north and is on the southeast corner of the Courthouse Square at the corner of Sixth Street and Locust (originally known as Hamilton and Market Streets) in Marshall, Clark County, Illinois. The free standing brick commercial building measures approximately 40 foot by 125 feet an stands at its original prominent location in the downtown Marshall business district. The building is in the area designated as the Marshall Main Street and is just one block south of the original National Road, recently designated a scenic byway.

The property originates with the purchase of a section of land from the Federal Government by William B. Archer and Joseph Duncan in 1829. Marshall was founded in 1835, and the first recorded entry for lot 3 & 4 of Block 38 was on August 13, 1835. The property changed ownership several times until February 20, 1861, when it was purchased by Howard Harlan for $140.[1] He constructed his magnificent opera house in 1872 on lot #4 at an ideal location that was one block from the National Road, three blocks from the Archer House Hotel, one and a half blocks from a proposed railroad station, and across the street from the county courthouse. The building was designed as a spacious opera house on the second floor with the convenience of a "drive-in" livery stable on the first floor.

In a newspaper article about Marshall from the mid 1870's it reads as follows:

> There has been erected in Marshall during the past few years, some very fine buildings, in which all her citizens feel a just pride, among which may be mentioned Harlan's Hall, erected at considerable cost of Howard Harlan, Esq. The Hall is 40 by 100 feet, with a twenty foot deep stage supplied with a beautiful drop curtain, and very fine scenery. It is well ventilated, and easy of entrance and exit. It is as fine a City Hall as there is in the West for a city the size of ours.[2]

GENERAL DESCRIPTION:

The building is of Italianate architecture with a steep pitch roof wide overhanging eaves, tall narrow arched windows, and heavy brackets under the eaves approximately six and one half feet apart around the entire perimeter of the building. This was the style of the period and matches the many remaining 1800's buildings in the downtown, all in sty at the time. The building is on a stone foundation and of solid brick construction with walls three and four courses thick. The large upper double hung windows are 4 over 4. Although some are covered now, mu of the original glass and wood sills remain. The roof is asphalt sha Two original brick chimneys remain on the north front of the building. The roof is supported by massive timber trusses as there are no interio pillars or supports in the entire second floor hall area. The 40 foot by 125 foot two story building consists of 10,000 square feet over the two floors plus an extensive balcony.

The footprint of Harlan Hall and the general physical appearance a little changed since construction. The most significant changes were made prior to 1920 with structural steel supports placed above some of the first floor windows to enable larger display windows on the north-west corner. Lower floor windows and doors on the east side were brick up when a frame one-story building was constructed against the east sid This building was demolished many years ago and is now the parking lot. Several chimneys on the east and west sides of the building were also removed. Interior changes where made at this same time and also in the mid 1950's; these will be discussed later. The building has been painted for many years, but with considerable weathering it will be relatively easy to return to its original appearance. Plans are to clean, tuckpoint, and restore the building to its natural brick.

EXTERIOR:

NORTH ELEVATION:

The front of the building consists of a wide central bay flanked on each side with two narrower bays. The upper floor consists of a large window in each bay. These openings are now covered with plywood; however, the original arched 4 over 4 windows and glass are intact in each opening. The large covered opening in the middle of the second floor is an original double door opening at floor level. In the 1920's this opening was used to raise material and lower partially constructed hog houses that were manufactured on the second floor. Between each window is a brick pilaster, two of which are original chimneys.

At the ground level, starting with the east or left, is a double door to the stairs that lead to the opera house. Right of this door is another door that leads to a vestibule. Further to the right was originally a wide entrance that led to a lobby and club room. Back of the lobby was a drive, the remaining length of the building for the livery stable. The front door and main entrance is now off-center in this opening. Further to the west or right is a large plate glass window probably added in the early 1900's. Restoration plans are to restore this front nearly to its original appearance.

EAST ELEVATION:

This side clearly shows where the windows and doors have been as the arched lintels are still intact. The ground floor originally had small narrow windows below each second floor opening. These were for the horse stalls of the stable. An exterior chimney was added most likely during the early 1900's remodeling and will be removed. The closure of windows and doors were made to accommodate the construction of a one-story building adjoining the hall structure. About two-thirds of the way back on the east side is anotehr large arched carriage entrance that entered the stable area. Although this has been bricked in, plans are to re-open this as an access or a window to the first flo There are 10 large second floor windows which are now covered. Several of the original windows are in storage and can be re-installed in these openings. This side faces the vacant lot of the property and is used for parking. Immediately east of the vacant lot is a grocery store.

SOUTH ELEVATION:

This is the back of the building which faces an alley and has never had windows. There is a second floor door that opened to the back of the stage and was used for entry of performers, scenery, etc. An iron stairs exits against the building to the west. In the middle of the ground floor is an original carriage entrance. To the right is a door for personnel entry.

WEST ELEVATION:

On the upper level are 14 original double hung 4 over 4 windows; most with original glass. Although the upper portions are currently covered with plywood, the original sashes and glass are intact. On the ground floor are eight small original windows that provided openin and light into the horse stalls within. There were originally a coup more small windows in the left or north part of the wall, but they were replaced with the larger glass display windows prior to the 1920 At least two of the pilasters are original chimneys.

NEARBY:

Directly across the street from the front of the hall on the north side of locust, northeast corner of Locust and 6th Street is a lovely 1890's brick building that is in the process of restoration. A new computer store is in the front, a tea room in the back, and two beautiful apartments have been completed on the second floor using the original wrought iron stairs. (See Exhibit A)

Across Sixth Street and west on Locust is a new car lot. This at one time was the location of the Marshall House Hotel also owned by Mr. Harlan. It was lost to fire in 1978. Diagonally northwest from Harlan Hall is the 1904 Clark County CourtHouse centered in the middle of the block.

INTERIOR:

FIRST FLOOR:

Entering through the Locust Street front door on the north middl of the building is a small vestibule. Past this was the main club room of the Moose Lodge. It has paneled walls, a drop ceiling (now removed since pictures were taken). The ceiling is the original pressed tin in remarkably good condition. All windows are paneled over except the large plate glass display window facing west in the northwest corner. The floor is tile over concrete. There is no basement.

Immediately in the room to the right across the north side is a raised platform that was used for music, entertainment, bingo, etc. There is an enclosed area on the northeast corner that is the stairwell to the second floor, and just to the south of this are two restrooms. This large open area comprises about two thirds of the first floor space. The far south side of the room has a large bar area in the middle with a storage room on the east and kitchen on the west. These two rooms are two of the original horse stalls with original brick walls.

Entering a door in the middle of the south wall back of the bar and down a short ramp leads to the original carriage drive with brick plastered walls and the same pressed tin ceiling. The floor is concrete and slopes to the rear alley. To the right or west is a large original sliding door that enters an original horse stall that has also been converted into a kitchen. Just south on the same side is a small room that has been an office. In the middle of the south outside wall is an oversized arched original doorway that was one of the carriage entrances for the livery stable. In the south east corner is a small room with standard doorway outside that was probably the office for the attendant of the stable. Adjacent on the east wall is another large sliding doorway and horse stall.

The first floor area is about 4,900 square feet, heated by overhead forced air gas heaters, and has large air-conditioners mounted through walls and window openings. The small double-hung windows in the west side horse stalls are still in good condition but have been painted and paneled over inside and outside.
